Representatives of That Paper on Trial for Contempt in the SACRAMENTO, March 8.-The sonate SACRAMENTO, March 8.—The sensite chamber was crowded tonight when the senate convened. The galleries held their full capacity, and on the floor chairs were at a premium. The sometors' decks were crowded with lady Iriende of the members, and a constant here; indicated that sammathine unusual was a2tir. It was known that the representatives of the Examiner were to be tried for contempt and there was much feminiue and otherwise, I curiosity, feminiue and otherwise, to know just how the thing was to be done, A little disappointment was manifested when Senator Seawell presented a tele-gram from George A. Knight asking for a continuance until tomorrow morning. Senator Scawell said that the matter was now in the hands of the senate, and he would abide by the decision of that body.

Another tolegram was read from Knight to Senstor Stratton seking him to urge continuance until tourorow morning.
Sonaton Dickinson said that the case had already been postponed from Friday night until Monday and that at the request of the Eccation: be had postponed the contempt proceedings from 3.30 this distract which was not been accounted the contempt proceedings from 3.30 this distract was not been accounted the contempt proceedings from 3.30 this distract was not been did not been dill not been did not been did not been did not been did not been d

In response to Clusie's question, Senter Morencuse said that he had gone not the lobby after he had voted and here received a telegram. The dispatch rase in reference to bill 273 and was igned by W. F. Herrin. Morehows add that Horrin had asked him not to puss the hill. The witness was exused, but returned shortly afterwards ad submitted the following telegram to be committee:

G. Will explain whom I see you.

W.F. Hamitx.

Superintendent Jaynes of the Westrn Union Telegraph Company was alled and asked for the telegrams shigh had passed between members of hee assembly and Hayward, Crooker, laker and Horrin. Ex-Judge Carponric counsel for Jaynes, said that the uppens was too general in its terms, and that bis client could not comply sith it. He suggested issuing a new refer including only telegrams referring bill 273. This was done, the order

THE EXTRA SESSION.

It is reported that some pressure was brought to bear to cause President Mc-Kieloy to delay convening the ex-tra session of congress until two weeks later than the 15th Inst. The reason for later than the 15th inst. The reason for this pressure, however, was strictly persond in its nature, many of the sanators and representatives desiring to go home in order to attend to their private basiness, and it is to the President's credit that their urgency was without avail. It needs no partisan spectacies to recognize the fact that the triff cannot be revised too soon for the welfare of the country. Even a Democrat, desatisfied though he may be with the outcome of the income-tax legislation, must appresthe income-tax legislation, must appre ciate the fact that the nation cannot too quickly secure a sufficient income for itself. At the present time the government is running behind at the rate of about $25,000,000 annually, and this condition cannot continue a great while before it must result in another issue of lunds themself through it may be in a time of ciate the fact that the nation cannot to before it must result in the bonds though it may be in a time of peace. The mill must be fed while it

And it is doubtful if the necessity of government is a stronger argument for an immediate session of congress than others which present themselves. For others which present themselves. For some time past the nation has been passing through a period of commercial depression and industrial stagration. Some industries are at a standaill and others are at a low ebb. This condition, while it was the natural result of that Democratic tinkering with the tariff which reduced the governmental income the level of its expenditures below the level of the explanation must be remedied before we can look for the prosperity which the Republican party has promised to the people. A send industries are awaiting the re vivifying touch of congressional and ex viviying tonen of congressional and ex-ecutive action. This, for instance, is the case in connection with that raisin industry for which Freezo is noted. The action thus demanded should not ane action thus demanted should not be delayed a day longer than is neces-sary, for until it is taken business can-not generally revive. The very sun-pense and uncertainty in which non-notion will have the great industries of pense and uncertainty in which assisted will leave the great industries of the country will make revival impossithe country will make revival impositi-ble while it continues. If the conven-ing of congress had been postponed but two weeks, the possibility of the dawn-ing of a brighter day in the business world would have been putponed jost, that long. We may look for a move-ment toward better times, with all that the term implies to people of all places in the local places and the places of the pla the term implies to people of all places in life, just as soon as the tariff has been placed on such a basis that it will insure a sufficient lucome and afford an adequate protection to all industries, and we need not expect it a day bears then.

Event day now brings etronger hope that Greece will pertiat in her present attitude and compel the issue, so that it cannot be Emisunderstoad: Shall the "Christian" nowers assist the murder-ous Mohamedans to crush a Christian people, or shall they not? With this issue so equarely presented that it cannot he evaded even by diplomatic hocks and cruoks, it seems impossible that some of the powers longer should be found on the side of the Turke. To imagine France in that despieable role is difficult, and something better would have been expected even of soldierriden Germany. But it is to Great Event day now brings stronger hope ridden Germany. But it is to Great Britain that the eyes of the world in With witably turn in this emergency. all the unsightly blurs upon her escutch-con, there is so much of the higher spirit in her people that we walt to hear her ringing protest against the sacrifice of the Cretane on the miserable star of international policy. To be sure, great sums of money to the Suitan, but we expect her at the high call of her duty in this case to rise above the commercial basis and recogabove the commercial basis and recog-nize the fact that life has things of more import than pounds, shillings and pence. Better that a Rothschild should lose some of his millions than that this unspeakable crime should be recorded on the pages of the world's history. It on the pages of the world's Discory. It is in any fevent an outrageous anomaly that civilized Europe should keep a barbaric Turkey within her southern door, and it political annihilation should be visited upon any nation, she is the one which has infinitely deserved it. RANDOM REMARKS.

The all-pervading gloom of the news-paper situation is somewhat modified by the fact that the Curbett-Fitzammons agony will be over in but a little more than another week.

A resident of Mexico has just died at the age of 150 years. But a person who has recided fifty years in the United States has lived longer in what counts for real life. "Cycle in Ositay" do not count for much, you remember.

If G. Washington and St. Patrick ever meet over on the other side, they might congravitate each other that the people still celebrate their birthday an inversaries—by horse racing and pugific-tic events. Thus do we do honor to our estited dead.

A Sau Francisco woman had diamonds set in her two upper front teeth. Recently in Portland, Origon, two mer had thus secured the diamonds. And the mer were not professional dentisia, either. But popular sympathy for a woman who were diamonds in hor teeth will be felt in only a moderate degree.

felt in only a moderate degree.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyda" are not alone of the world of fiction. There is a 14-year old girl in London who is posessed of precisely each a dual nature as fewnessed in his little book. When the Dr. Jekyll side of this child's nature is in the ascendency, "the is very, very good," and when the Mr. Hydo side is supreme, "the is horrid." When she is in the ones condition she is the opposite in any respect of what she is in the other, nor does she remember from one state to the other. There is more of the sugul and the demon in her than in most of us, but perhaps more than that need not be said.

CONCERNING WRATHER SAGES.

"All mea," said thaphilosopher, "are divided into two closees—weather looks and a lew others. I sat in a little crowd of men two or three nights ago and little men to the conversation. They were men of at least average intelligence I know, for there was not a one among them who could not und did tell exactly how the government ought to mu its finances. Preity soon the conversation turned on thus subject of the weather.

"It's going to rain, said one.
"What makee you think so?"
"My roaster's crowed 'hout midnight the hes night or two. He always does that when it's going to rain,"
"They all set around and admired that rouster. It didn't occur to a one of them to sak if the rouster didn't crow sometimes when no rain followed. After the last man of them all had when the the waved such a prophetic gentleman loon, one of them said:

Entror Raybancan;—The Expositor of last evening published an article in which it said in embelance that R. T. Hall, formerly of Fresno, had been expelled from the San Francisco Dental College for charging about four times the rates of the college for work done, and for pocketing the monor belonging to the college. People acquainted with R. T. Hall and the Expositor do not be lieve the raport, but some may not know either and therefore he misled by the article. I wish to say that there is no truth in the Expositor's report. Hall has not hear expelled from the college, nor has he been accused of charging too much for dental work, taking money that did not belong to him, or of any other moral crime. It is two months for dental work, taking money that did not belong to him, or of any other moral crime. It is two months from the results of the truth.

In answer of the standard of the standard walked to Lankershim, near Madera, where a kind-hearted man had given her money enough to pay her fare to Freeno. She had told him of her situation, and he actived her to esek the Salvation Army when he should strive here. She was desittate, she said, and had been without food for some time.

The officers took the woman to the Salvationists and he ladies of that or stion, and he advised her to eask the Salvation Army when she should arrive here. She was destitute, she said, and had been without food for some time. The officers took the woman to the Salvationists and the ladies of that organization underlook to care for the uniortunate wanderer. Miss Jensen was warnly received, and she somed to deeply appreciate the fact that she was among friends.

To a Republican reporter yesterday Miss Jensen stated that she wanted to get home to her purents, who live at Port Worth, Texas. She rae away from them seven years ago when she was only 15 years of age. A man had induced her to clope with him and he brought her to San Francisco, where he deserted her about a year later. The unhappy child was thrown upon her own resources, and went to work as a domestic. Her life had been way ward, and at last anable to work, pennilees and friendless the unfortunate women set ont to walk to be he was the only child. She bad inst 10 cents whom she started, and this she pent for her fare on the boat to Shoexton. Thence she set out to walk, following the Valley inlitrod. She was about four weeks getting to Laukershim. For the first five days she wont without food, and not untif forced by the severest pange of nanger did side ask at the ranch houses for fixed. Seantly attired and enduring privations, the poor woman struggled on, reaching Innershim Saturday evening.

Since Miss Jensen left home seven years ago her parents have not heard from her. Yesterday for the first five on the seventy the will send her money to get her heak home.

Alcantine she will be cared for by the Salvationists, and Dr. Davidson will we be overlyed at her comply face, and appach in a bright and intolligant manner. She is determined to ruturn home to lior parents, who che believes will be overlyed at her combel.

THE REVENUE ACT APPROPRI-ATELY CELEBRATED.

Paragraphs About Fresnans Who Are Seeking Knowledge at the College.

Berkeley's skies are again gray and weeping, making things gloomy in general. Yet college men are thankful that eral. Yet college men are thanked that since the rain must come it is kind enough to fall on Tuesdays and Thursdays so that they get out of that dread-fully imperative duty—drill. The pros-pects of our athletes who intended to have their try-out today are blighted and they must train a while blighted and they must train a while longer before trying out.

Last Saturday, February 27th, however the sun shone brilliamtly, as only it can when there is to be a celebration on the campus. The occasion was a day of rejoicing over the nessage of the Wright bill, by which the university is much beneficed financially. Especially to the students and hadging from the large number of others who through the campus, to the entire community was the passing of this bill most pleasing. Governor Budd, with 117 lawmakers and many other visitors, arrived at about 1 n'clock. They were met by the faculty, students and eliticans of Berkeley. Four buttainns of student cades also marched with lowersham ungit to the estation to age. as an expensively

ley. Four battainons of student vacual asson marchoul with Hourieh and music to the station to set as an accord to the queets. At Stiles hall the ascolated women students surved luncheon to 250 persons—the faculty, legislators, governor and their wives. From here they went to the campus, where the light companies of cadets passed in review before the governor. They made a splendimilitary showing. A covered platform hall been built and profusely decorated with blue and gold, intermingled with the stars and stripes. With the assistance of members from the Presidio houd the U. C. band furnished excellent music. When the boys were dismissed from ranks they rushed to join those waiting eagerly for the other exercises.

COLONEL ANDREWS TO RETIBE

Special Correspondence of the Republican.
San Francisco, March 7.—San Frauciscons are now unjoying the privilege of watching the movements of politicians n other cities and towns throughout the date in the matter of electing munici pal officers. They attended to that busi-ness last November, but are still inter-ested in the apolls. Alameda and Oak-land seem to absorb the largest share of attention. Every element, social, moral, political and religious, have batchets and swords sharponed for scalps. They do not seem to care so much for their favorites as they do for their opponents, and they would rejoice more over the defeat of their enemies than the success of their friends.

Spring Valley is weary. It is now passing through its annual inquisition before the board of supervisore. It is the biggest thing they have to deal with, and being a public utility, there is always some fellow who wants to make a record it its expense. This time it is a little Italian dector by the name of Rotavii, who has made some money in the whisky and drug business. Ite was indorsed and olected by the whisky combine, and of course they are our posed to water. In urder to protect the stockholders the company does not feel justified in putting up the required amount of boodle, and hence the fight goes on.

Lt is wonderful how things have changed in this city during the past few years. Clevelandiem is written overywhere. I was walking down Montgomery street yesterday and found that old business betometer, Colonel Andrews of the Diamond Palace, closing out his business for good. He has been one of the most successful merchants in the city, and has stood the storme of thirty years with courses and fortitude. He has always been at the front and his energies user lagged on the threshold of a prospect. No enterprise ever lacked his assistance, and no one ever had occasion to question his layelty to the best interests of the city and the state. When a loop was cherished that the Midwinter Fail scould bridge the financial casion to question his loyalty to this best interests of the city and the state. Whon a loope was cherished that the Midwin-ter Fair would bridge the financial chasm and revive prospecity, he not only joined, but he led the procession. He thought it would altrait endicient attention to partially counteract the depressing and demoralizing indicence of revenue that flowed from the Wilson tariff law, by restoring confidence in California at least. But he was dissopointed. He saw the struggling merchants marking down their goods in order to realize ready money to protect heir commercial integrity until the lexication of profit was wiped out, and ho concluded that there was "no hain in Gilead," as long as there was a chance for Cieveland to make a big profit out of the sale of bouds, and he concluded to that there was "no hain in Gilead," as long as there was a chance for Cieveland to make a big profit out of the sale of bouds, and he concluded to that there was "no hain in quit, and that old landwark will soon he no mora. He tells the clory with some degree of caluette.

ALFRED KUTNER WEDS

MARRIED TO MISS KUTNER IN SAN FRANCISCO.

A Brilliant Social Event at the Bay City-Fresnans Who Attended.

Alfred Kutner, manager of the K w. Goldetein Uompany's stores in the city, was married in San Francisco on daughter of A. Kutuer, the sonior me ber of the company, of whose local interesis the groom is in charge. went was a notable one in society at the bay city, in which the contracting par-ties have been prominently known.

tree have been prominently known.

The Enuminer of yesterday contains the following account of the wedding:

The resistence of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kather, on the corner of Octavia and Eddy streets, was the scene of a brilliant wedding last evening when their daughter, him Tessic Kutner, a merchant of Fresno. The high Parlors were handsomely allored with a merchant of Fresno. The bride parlors were handsomely allored with the center was a large for the couple in the center was a large of the couple in the center. The bride parlors were handsomely and the parlors were the meaning the property of the bride parlors. The bride parlor is the context of the parlors and by four little relations of the brides Leon Kutner, Nathan Goldstein, Arthur Atmuth and Texis Rosenthal of Madera. Then came Miss Tessic Goodman, carrying a silk custion an which was the line. the order of greenbacks.

There is method in the Examinar's tastice. It must be understood that it is not crowding itself into legislative proceedings for the sake of purifying alone. The free alvertising it will get during the investigation of the charges of bribers and corruption is the main object. It entisfies its eenestional maw, and, as in the case of the big Newnda slouging, where it has, at great expense, seemed the excheive privilege of correcting the bad English and publishing the staff direct from the champions, it is the central figure in the exching news. It just revels in examinal and would rejoice to revive the ouston of "murdering a must to make a Roman holiday." Those legislative scandals are movily manufactured to fit the "new journal-ismi" with which this country is sorely afflicted, and while there is much that smucke of extrawagance, there is seldom any real foundation for charges of sean-dal.

"The Bloomer Girls are all right and they gave one of the best entertainments witnessed in this city. The company has a splendid ordicatin, and the and innee manifested its appreciation of overy number rendered.

"The introduction was a novelly and such a decided innovation upon ministrel enstoms that it was bighly enjoyable. The costumes were new and very pretty, and the choruses were especially strong. George A. Bird, who directs the introductory, is very clever in burneque, and sings and dances well. He is also a splendid Chiucee impersonator. There are a number of very pretty girls and accomplished vocalists in the opening choruses. The congs ting sing are catchy and a medley servest introduced all the popular melodies of the day. Minnie Huff is the star among the female members of the company, and she ought to have been gratified with the warmth' and outhusiasm of her reception in Woodland. She sings well and of Trinsfore' concluded an entertainment that was heartly enjoyed from beginning to end."
